PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I describe myself as a hardworking person eager to continue learning new things that will help me enhance my knowledge.

I have skills in front-end development for both web and mobile platforms. Sometimes, I work on personal or team projects with my university colleagues that are hosted on my private GitHub (<https://github.com/jirenuki-69>). During the quarantine period, I have devoted a significant amount of time to studying online courses that help me expand my knowledge in a particular subject, which has benefited my academic and professional growth.
